Description for Product Discontinuation

We always strive to provide you with state-of-the-art products for your application. As part of the ongoing improvement process, a new hinged cover made of plastic was developed for our uncoated HEAVYCON STA panel mounting bases. Now that we offer this optimized plastic hinged cover, we will discontinue the previous gray powder-coated panel-mount base with metal protective cover.

The plastic protective cover is black and made of a polycarbonate. It is highly resistant to impact, is UV-resistant, and has a flammability rating of UL 94 V0. The previous housing is fully compatible and interchangeable with the new housing.
